I understand that if I have selected the Not For Credit (NFC) grading option for any course, that course will not receive academic credit and will not count toward certificate completion, teacher credentialing requirements, or course completion certificates awarded by the OSHA Training Institute Education Center. The course also may not be accepted by third-parties, including employers, other educational institutions or financial assistance agencies. I am responsible for verifying these requirements and requesting changes to my grading option before the deadline.

The Taxpayer Relief Act of 1997 requires educational institutions to obtain a valid Social Security Number (SSN) or Individual Taxpayer ID Number (ITIN) from all US Citizens and Permanent Residents who choose to or are required to file a US tax return. Students who provide a SSN/ITIN may be eligible to receive an educational tax credit for qualified expenses for courses taken at UC San Diego Extended Studies. If you do not have income that is subject to US tax, you are not required to supply this information to us. However, please be advised that UC San Diego Extended Studies will report all student records to the IRS whether or not you have provided this information. Please visit myextension.ucsd.edu to either provide your SSN/ITIN or to opt out of providing that information.

All UC San Diego Extended Studies students are part of the UC San Diego community and expected to follow Extension, University and UC-wide policies. For specific policies, please visit our Registration Policies and Procedures website page.
